See you at Singing Woods/ Tawny Oaks on October 1

Hi:

This is our last week together in our OLLI study group. So far, we have encountered many insects (and more await discovery). I'm sending this reminder that we will be meeting at 9:30 a.m. on Thursday, October 1 at Singing Woods/ Tawny Oaks. I will be waiting near the shelter adjacent to the parking lot (where we met a couple of weeks ago). Rain appears to be in the forecast once again (sigh). Unless there is danger of lightning or strong winds, we will still meet at the preserve.

I would like to continue to expand our list of the insect species encountered on our excursions. If possible, please send me the photos you have taken of insects on our field trips so far. Please don't forget to send photos from Thursday as soon as possible after our study group concludes. I hope to have a reasonable documentation of the species, but I can't do this without your photos. Just send them to me by email as soon as possible. You can find the page at this link - https://centralillinoisinsects.org/2026-olli-study-group/

I have updated our web page - https://insectsmatter.net/olli/olli-26/ with information for our October 1 session. Please examine the updates. I was asked by OLLI to see who would like to share their email and phone number with others in the study group. I will bring a form on Thursday. If you are unable to participate in our last session, please reply to this email and let me know if you are willing to share that information with others in the group. I will notify OLLI later in the week.

As always, please reach out to me with any questions and comments.

See you at 9:30 on October 1 at Singing Woods/ Tawny Oaks! Who knows what will we encounter this time?
